Vulcan Value Partners Closes Small-Cap Strategy To New Clients

Vulcan Value Partners has closed its domestic small-cap equity strategy to focus on existing clients, the firm announced.

The strategy, which was launched in 2007, currently has assets of approximately $1.4 billion and is ranked in the top 1% of its peer group, the firm said.

Vulcan was named last year's Small-cap Manager of the Year by Emerging Manager Monthly (EMM, 4/4/13).

"We are extremely proud to work with a great group of clients who have provided us with a stable capital base. This partnership has allowed us to execute our investment philosophy without distraction," said C.T. Fitzpatrick, ceo and cio, in a statement.

"We are closing our Small Cap program now because we do not want size to impede our ability to serve existing clients. We take fiduciary responsibility seriously and always seek to put our clients first."

The strategy will be closed to new accounts only and current investors should be unaffected, the firm said. Vulcan Value Partners' additional large-cap, all-cap, focus and focus plus strategies remain open to new investors.

Vulcan Value Partners is an investment company with $4.5 billion in assets that manages equity strategies for clients including endowments, foundations, pension plans, family offices and several comingled funds.
